Traffic Signal Improvements at Stewart Parkway and Edenbower Blvd.

Roseburg, OR – The City of Roseburg Public Works Department is making safety improvements at the intersection of NW Stewart Parkway and NW Edenbower Blvd. Starting Wednesday, January 22nd at 7 pm, this traffic intersection will be controlled by flaggers while the improvements are being made. The project is set to conclude by 7 am on Thursday, January 23rd. Drivers commuting during this time should plan accordingly, and expect delays while traveling through this intersection.

The improvement involves installing new traffic signal heads at this intersection, which will increase visibility for drivers and improve overall safety.

The City has contracted with Kunert Electric to install the new signal heads. Funding for the improvement comes from an All Roads Transportation Safety grant from the Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT).

For detailed information on the signal improvements, please call the Public Works Department at 541-492-6730.
